Preparing Makes Sense. Get Involved Now.

It starts with you. We all have a role to play in keeping Philadelphia safe and secure. Take simple steps to be prepared for emergencies, get training in basic first aid, and volunteer to help local emergency responders.

“Our goal is to have all citizens participate in making Philadelphia safer, stronger, and better prepared for preventing and handling threats of terrorism, crime, and disasters of all kinds,” said Deputy Managing Director for Emergency Management MaryAnn Marrocolo.

Join us and become a volunteer.
